WIRELESS OPERATOR IN INVALID'S CHAIR STIRS COMMITTEE WITH STATEMENT THAT LINER FRANKFURT IGNORED AID CALL

Scene of Inquiry Shifts from New York to Washington--Line of Questions indicate that Widespread Revision of Wireless Rules for Ships May Result.

Steward Tells Story About a Millionaire who Manned a Boat and had it Launched Before the General Order Came--Is may to Take the Stand, Again.

New York, April 20.—The senate investigation of the Titanic disaster came to an end today, so far as the New York hearing was concerned. It will be resumed, however, in Washington on Monday, when J. Bruce Ismay and P. A. S. Franklin, the chief officers of the White Star line, and more than a score of the officers and crew of the sunken vessel will appear before the committee.

Incident to the sudden close of the hearing here was the story of Harold S. Bride, the second and only surviving wireless operator of the Titanic. His tale was one of suffering and of death. He told of the final plunge of the vessel to its ocean burial. He said that he and the captain's end also was revealed. He leaped from the bridge when the waters were closing over his ship.

This morning Wireless Operator Bride, crippled as a result of his experiences and seated in an invalid's chair, told his story of the last moments of the Titanic. Change to Washington.

After the hearing was resumed in the afternoon announcement of the change of base was made. Herbert J. Pittman, the third officer of the Titanic, had been called to the witness chair. Senator Smith directed one question to him, relating to the whereabouts of the ship's log; the witness said he did not know. Mr. Smith then announced the committee's decision to resume the inquiry in Washington on Monday.

The committee devoted its entire day to an investigation of the connection of the wireless with the disaster. H. T. Cottam, the operator on the Carpathia, was the first witness.

The star witness of the day was Bride. He was called to the table in an invalid's chair. He was hollow cheeked and wan and had just come from a physician's care. His hands were never quiet. He twisted his fingers incessantly and was highly nervous.

Operators Young and Inexperienced. Cottam, 23 years old, and Bride, is merely a boy. Neither had any telegraphic experience previous to taking up wireless telegraphy and told tales of long hours at low wages and days and nights spent without sleep.

This inexperience and mental condition of the young operators were the two points on which Senator Smith bore persistently. He had put Cottam through a grueling examination, in which the youth testified that he had not slept more than eight or ten hours between Sunday night, when the Titanic called for help and Tuesday night, when the vessel docked here. Bride's story was one that bore out virtually all that Cottam's had established, except that his was one of nervous strain and worry and high keyed suspense.

Frankfurt Answered First. Bride was closely questioned as to the first vessel to answer the calls of the Titanic. He said the first to answer was the Frankfurt, of the North German-Lloyd line. The operator on the Frankfurt, according to the witness, apparently considered the call more or less trivial, for half an hour after receiving the imperative appeal of the sea, he called the Titanic to inquire specifically just what was wrong.

Mr. Phillips said he was a fool. Bride testified, referring to the first operator on the Titanic who lost his life "and told him to keep out."

No effort was made to re-establish communication with the Frankfurt, although Phillips felt certain that the vessel was much nearer than the Carpathia with which communication had been established. This, Bride said, Phillips judged by reason of the greater power of the Hertzian waves.

Senator Smith expressed astonishment at the statement. He repeatedly pressed the witness to answer why the aid of a vessel much nearer was evaded ship was not invoked. Bride evaded a direct answer by saying that he did not know, that probably the Frankfurt's on him and put on my own. Then we both cared for a woman who had fainted and who we brought into our cabin.

"Then about ten minutes before the ship sank, Captain Smith gave word for every one to look to his own safety. I sprang to aid the men trying to launch the life raft and we had succeeded in getting it away. I went with it and found myself underneath. Struggling through an eternity, I finally emerged and was swimming 150 feet from the Titanic when she went down. I felt no emotion as the vessel plunged.

"I did not see Mr. Ismay at all. Captain Smith stuck to the bridge, and, turning, I saw him jump as the vessel went under. He had not put on a life belt, so far as I could see, and he went down with his ship."

The witness showed so plainly the mental and physical strain under which he was laboring that both Senators Newlands and Reed asked Senator Smith to examine him. After a few more interrogations Senator Smith did so.

"I regret extremely having had to subject you to such an ordeal," said Senator Smith addressing Bride, "because of your condition. I would have avoided it if possible, but the committee thanks you most heartily for the effort you have made and the frankness of your testimony."

Neither Senator Smith nor Senator Newlands would comment on the line of cross examination followed. It was evident, however, that the testimony sought was intended to form the basis of a sweeping and thorough reform in the laws governing the use of wireless on steamships.

List of Witnesses Summoned. Senator Smith announced the close of the hearing in New York and said all the witnesses had been summoned to appear in Washington, where the inquiry is to be resumed there at 10:30 Monday morning.

"We have concluded to subpoena J. Bruce Ismay," said Mr. Smith, "P. A. S. Franklin, Harold Bride and H. T. Cottam, C. H. Lightoller, second officer of the Titanic; H. J. Pittman, third officer; J. G. Boxhall, fourth officer, and H. G. Lowe, fifth officer of the Titanic."

"We have also subpoenaed thirty members of the Titanic's crew," J. Bruce Ismay declined to accede to a request to allow his men to relate to the press their stories of the last moments on the Titanic on the ground that they had not yet given their evidence.

Statement for Press. After the hearing adjourned Senator Smith made the following statement to the press, in which he explained the intentions of the committee. He said in part:

"The object of the committee in coming to New York was the desire to avail itself of first hand information on this sad affair."

"After conferring with our associates we concluded to exercise our authority and formally subpoena the officers, a number of the ship's crew and a number of the Titanic's passengers and take further testimony at Washington before the entire subcommittee."

"I want to acknowledge our debt of gratitude to the representatives of the press for their marked consideration and courtesy and to assure them that everything that has transpired has been entirely in their presence and that this course will be pursued so far as I am concerned in the future hearings of the committee."

Three Warnings Transmitted. Three warnings of an iceberg were ahead were transmitted from the crow's nest of the Titanic to the officer on the doomed steamship's bridge 15 minutes before she struck, according to Thomas Whiteley, a first saloon steward, who now lies in St. Vincent's hospital with frozen and lacerated feet.

Whiteley, who was whipped overboard from the ship by a rope while helping to lower a lifeboat, finally reached the Carpathia aboard one of the boats that contained, he said, both the crew's nest lookouts. He heard a conversation between them, he said, in which they discussed the warnings given of the presence of the iceberg.

Whiteley did not know either of the lookout men's names, and he leaves they have returned to England with the majority of the surviving members of the crew.

Repeats Lookout's Statement. "I heard one of them say that at 11:15 o'clock, 15 minutes before the Titanic struck, he had reported to Chief Officer Murdoch that he fancied he saw an iceberg," said Whiteley. "Three after that the lookout said he warned Murdoch that a berg was ahead. I can't remember their exact words, but they were indignant that no attention was paid to their warnings. One of them said: 'No wonder that Mr. Murdoch shot himself.'"

Whiteley was asked if he knew whether the reports from the crew's nest to the pilot house were made by telephone or not. He said he did not know how it was on this ship, he replied, "on some ships it is done by bells, three bells meaning danger straight ahead, two bells, starboard and one bell, port. All I heard the lookout say was that he reported to Mr. Murdoch."

"I saw the iceberg. It was very large to me and looked black or rather a dark gray instead of white."

Tells of "Money Boat." Whiteley in telling of various experiences of the disaster that had come to his knowledge said that one of the first boats lowered, the only passengers aboard were a man whom he was told was an American millionaire, his wife, child and two servants. The others in the boat were frozen and dead. When he saw the man, he said, he was in a state of shock and he did not know what to do. He saw the man's life belt and he saw the man's life belt.

Howard Morrow and Eddy McGarry, middleweights, May 27.

Sam Langford and Joe Jannette, Jun 8 and Volagast and Rivers for the lightweight championship July 1.

In addition to the July 1 fight, Mr. Carey said Volagast and Rivers would again meet on Labor Day, both having agreed to the return match regardless of the outcome on Independence Day.

CLEANER ELECTROCUTED

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—John McLean, whose home is in Preppent, who has been employed in this city for the last two years, was electrocuted today while operating a vacuum cleaner, by his hand coming in contact with a portion of the wire attached to the cleaner which was not properly insulated.

"I do not know the man's name," said Whiteley.

"I heard it but have forgotten it. But I saw an order for five pounds which this man gave to each of the crew of the Titanic. They got aboard the Carpathia. It was on a piece of ordinary paper addressed to the Count's Bank of England."

"We called the boat the money boat." It was lowered from the starboard side and was one of the first off. Our orders were to load the life boats, beginning forward on the port side, working aft and then to the starboard.

This made the firemen to lower a starboard boat before the officers had given the order.

Whiteley's Hard Experience. Whiteley's own experience was a hard one. When the rope which entangled and thrown him, it furrowed the flesh of his leg, but he did not feel the pain till he was safely aboard the Carpathia.

"I floated on a life preserver for several hours," he said, "then I came across a big oak wardrobe with two men clinging to it. I hung on to this to daybreak and the two men dropped off. When the sun came up I saw the collapsible raft in the distance, just back with men. They were all standing up and waving to it, almost a mile away. They were shouting and not let me aboard. Mr. Lightoller, the second officer, was one of them."

No Room on Raft. "It's 31 lives against yours," he said, "You can't come aboard. There's no room."

"I pleaded with him in vain and then I confess I prayed that somebody might die, so I could take his place. It was only human. And then some one did die, and they let me aboard."

"Bye and bye, we saw seven life boats lashed together and we were taken off in them."

Whiteley explained that the reason he thought the crew's nest lookouts had started back to England was that he had that beside the senior officers only quartermasters had been retained as witnesses by the senate committee investigating the disaster and that the lookouts could not be in hospitals as they had not been injured.

BIG STORM SWEEPS WESTERN STATES

SEVEN KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN OKLAHOMA AND KANSAS.

Big Property Loss Has Been Suffered But Details Are Lacking—Reports Reaching Kansas City Indicate That the Storm is the Worst Known in the West in Recent Years.

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—A death toll of seven, over one hundred known to be seriously injured and property loss of unknown extent was caused by cyclonic storms in Kansas and Oklahoma this afternoon. The havoc is reported from towns and cities over a widespread area and each adds its quota to the list of killed and injured. All wires are down and the total of dead may be greatly enlarged when the full story of the tornado is known.

Three persons were killed, a score injured and many buildings wrecked in the vicinity of Yukon, near Oklahoma City. Two women were killed, many persons injured and fifty houses demolished at Hennessey, Okla. One man was killed and many others injured at Perry, Okla., where half the town was wrecked. Panic reigns in the section. Nearly every residence is more or less injured. None escaped loss. Fifteen persons were seriously injured, four probably fatally, at Edison, Kan. The south and east sections of the town were wrecked.

A farmer was killed, eight persons injured, a farm building was blown down and livestock killed at Anthony, Kan. A number of children suffered injuries at his point. Near Wichita, Kan., a mother and daughter were gravely fatally injured.

Reports of the storm, the worst in recent years, continued to be brought in to central points throughout the night.

YOUNG THAYER TELLS THRILLING STORY

Young Philadelphia Rescued From Titanic Relates Acts He Can Remember—Leaped From Ship and Was Helped to Overturn Lifeboat—Men Sang a Hymn and Offered a Prayer.

Philadelphia, April 20.—John B. Thayer, whose father, second vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, went down with the Titanic while his mother was saved, to day gave an account of his experience in the sea tragedy. Young Thayer, who is 17 years old, said in part:

"After the shock we hurried on deck and walked around until the sea was all ordered to collect on the port side. Father and I said good-bye to mother. I got separated and that is the last I saw my father. This was about half an hour before she sank. I went to the starboard side with Milton C. Long, of New York. As she started to sink we stood by the rail. Mr. Long and I said good-bye to each other and jumped. He did not jump clear, but slid down the side of the ship. I never saw him again."

"I jumped out feet first, coming up in the midst of a great deal of small wreckage. My hand touched the cork fender of an overturned life boat. Some men on the top helped me up. In a short time the boat was covered with about 25 or 30 men."

"The assistant wireless operator was right next to me, holding me on and kneeling in the water. We all sang a hymn and said the Lord's Prayer and then waited for dawn to come. The wireless man raised our hopes by telling us that the Carpathia would be up in about three hours. About 7:30 or 8 o'clock we saw her lights."

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD CONDITIONS.

Greatest Loss of Life and Property in Lower Valley—More Leaves Near Breaking Point.

New Orleans, La., April 20.—That the Mississippi flood is costing more human lives in the lower valley than in the upper seemed certain from reports today.

Rumors of loss of life could not be confirmed and apparently are untrue. Fifteen negroes, however, were drowned some time during last night near Benoit, Miss., in the break of the Benah levee.

Relief stations have been established at a dozen points and throngs of number of leaves were reported about at the breaking point tonight. Conditions will grow worse during the next week on the Sunflower valley of Mississippi which is rapidly being inundated in the northeastern part of Louisiana. The floodwater will cover a vast area of the present inundated territory for perhaps two months or longer.

FARMER KILLED MAYOR.

Sturgis, S. D., April 20.—Richard "Red" Sturgis, 34 years old, was shot and killed this afternoon and shot and killed Mayor Elmer T. Sturgis. He surrendered and a little while later cut his throat from ear to ear in his cell, dying in a few minutes.

MILITARY DEFEATED WESLEYAN

Decatur, Ill., April 20.—Military university baseball team opened the home season today with a victory over Wesleyan Wesleyan of Bloomington 6 to 3 in ten innings. Kasper hit a home run in the third and drove in the winning run with a two sack in the tenth.

TWO STATES GO FOR ROOSEVELT

Ex-President Choice of Republicans of Nebraska and Oregon—Clark Carries Former and Wilson Latter.

Omaha, Neb., April 20.—That Colonel Roosevelt carried Nebraska by a big majority in the presidential primary yesterday was made certain when it was added to the belief Champ Clark was Democratic choice by added returns from the election today. All returns received thus far, approximately one-fourth of the total, shows the following result:

Republicans, Roosevelt, 21,151; LaFollette, 8,322; Taft, 8,029.

Democrats, Clark, 8,043; Harmon, 6,141; Wilson, 6,357.

Victor Roosevelt, acting chairman of the national Republican committee, said today that he believed Roosevelt had polled from 2,102 to three times as many votes as either LaFollette or Taft.

Returns thus far indicate the former president has a majority of the vote in all of the six districts of the state.

Harmon supporters early today announced that they had no hope of carrying the state.

In Oregon. Portland, Ore., April 20.—The net results of yesterday's Republican and Democratic primaries in Oregon appeared late today to be as follows: Theodore Roosevelt as the preference of the Republican party in Oregon for president and indications are that Woodrow Wilson is the presidential preference. General selling of Portland is the Republican nominee for the senatorial candidacy.

The Democratic nominee is in doubt. W. S. Hawley, incumbent, in the first congressional district, is A. W. Laferty, incumbent, in the third district, have carried the Republican nomination for representative in congress.

The Democrats had no candidates in these districts.

RIOT INDICTMENTS

Forty Returned by Special Grand Jury That Investigated Trouble at Rock Island.

Rock Island, Ill., April 20.—Forty indictments were returned in the circuit court today by the special grand jury which investigated the riot in this city last month that resulted in the deaths of two men and the wounding of nine others. It is understood that all persons whom the testimony indicated as having helped the mob that attacked the city police station are included in the indictments.

The names of those held by the jury were suppressed and it was announced they would not be made public until next Monday. The first public meeting permitted since the riot was held to night and was addressed by E. H. Gardner, a Socialist, and one of the leaders of the movement for the recall of Mayor Schreyer and Police Commissioner Archie Hart. Gardner stated that already sufficient names had been secured to the recall petitions.

BLAMES ISMAY

Minneapolis Woman Says Director-Manager of Steamship Line Responsible for Titanic Disaster.

Chicago, April 20.—J. Bruce Ismay was held responsible for the Titanic disaster by Mrs. Walter D. Douglas, of Minneapolis, whose husband was drowned in the wreck. She spent several hours in Chicago to day enroute from New York to her home.

Mrs. Douglas was rescued in a lifeboat with Mrs. Arthur Ryerson of Philadelphia.

"Everybody knew we were near icebergs because it grew so cold," said Mrs. Douglas, in telling her story. "The second officer told me later that he had struck a 'growler' which he explained was a berg lying so close to the surface that it could not be seen in a calm sea from any considerable distance."

"On Sunday before the night of the wreck Mrs. Ryerson and I were walking on the upper deck and she told me she had met Mr. Ismay who handed her a marconigram which she did not read. Mrs. Ryerson inquired what was in the message and he said: 'I have just heard that we are in the icebergs.' Mrs. Ryerson said: 'Of course you are going to slow down.'"

"Oh, no," Mr. Ismay replied, "we are going to put on two more boilers and get out of it."

"The day before the wreck I was walking on deck with my husband, letting down a bucket over the side of the ship and we stopped to watch him. We were trying to dip up the ocean water and take the temperature. I leaned over the rail and saw that the mill never touched the water and he pulled it up empty. He then took the mill to the water line on deck, turned on the water there and filled the mill with the ship's water. Then he took the temperature of the water in the mill."

George Douglas, her brother-in-law, said that Mrs. Douglas had told her story to Senators Smith and Newlands of the senate investigating committee and that they had told her that what she had said was important and she agreed to return and testify before the committee when wanted.

HOUSE PASSES PUBLICITY BILL

MEASURE AIMED AT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION.

Author of Bill, Representative Henry, Demanded Passage to Force Taft and Roosevelt Managers to File Sworn Statements of Charges They Have Made of Excessive Use of Money in Present Campaign.

Washington, April 20.—A presidential campaign publicity bill, admittedly aimed at the Republican candidates in the presidential fight for the nomination at Chicago in June, passed the House of Representatives today after a short debate. Charges credited to Director McKinley of the Taft campaign bureau, that large sums were being spent for the nomination of Col. Roosevelt, were read to the house by Representative Henry, Democrat, of Texas, author of the publicity bill. He demanded that the house pass the measure, to force both Mr. McKinley and Senator Dixon, manager for Mr. Roosevelt to file sworn statements of the charges they have made, of excessive use of money or pledges in the present campaign.

The bill was strongly amended with the aid of the Republicans, finally passed with almost no opposition. It would require each candidate for the presidency or the vice presidency on any ticket filed with the secretary of the United States senate, both before and after primaries nominating conventions and general elections, in full "correct, itemized statements of all money and things of value received by him or any one for him with his knowledge and consent. The names of all persons who had contributed more than $100 to his fund, and a statement of all promises and pledges of office made by him with the name of the persons involved."

The bill would require further that managers of political committee or of voluntary organizations supporting the campaigns of candidates and all persons working in behalf of such candidates, file with the secretary of the senate similar statements.

Republicans criticized the bill as "crude and ineffective," and later aided in adopting amendments which greatly strengthened it.

The amendment requiring candidates themselves to file statements, provoked a story of retort that set the house in an uproar for a few minutes.

"Think of that high office," exclaimed Representative Henry. "There are no candidates for president. Candidates for president are always sought out by the people and are nominated by the people."

Laughter greeted this statement. "At least on this side we have no candidates," said Mr. Henry.

"You mean you have no candidate who has a chance," shouted Representative Gunn.

"I believe that Theodore Roosevelt, the Mad Mullah of South Africa, did announce himself as a candidate," shouted Mr. Henry in return.

"And if he is nominated he will beat you to death," retorted Mr. Mann. Lively scenes followed as Mr. Henry said it was enough to make the angels weep to observe stand-patters applaud Mr. Roosevelt.

The bill as it passed the house provides maximum penalties of $5,000 and three years imprisonment.

Parry Belmont, president of the Publicity Law association declared to night that a canvass of the senate assured the passage by that body of the Henry bill.

TRACK MEET.

Columbia, Mo., April 20.—Illinois University won the dual track meet from Missouri State university this afternoon by 77 points to 49. Anderson of Illinois, won the quarter mile from Bernad, the fastest man of Missouri, by a hair's breadth.

Nicholson, the star high hurdler of Missouri, did not finish in the hurdles, but he won the high jump and the broad jump. Murphy of Illinois, was the first in the pole vault at 12 feet, which was as high as the bar could be placed. To show what he could do, Murphy vaulted the distance above the bar at the highest point.

Princeton, N. J., April 20.—C. Thompson, a sophomore of Princeton Theological Seminary broke the world's record for the number of points scored in an all-round athletic championship trial here today. Thompson scored 7,557 points, or 1,002 points more than Sheridan, holder of the all-round record. The trial was held under A. A. U. rules, however. Thompson has twice won the A. A. U. all-round championship.

Thompson also broke the world's record for the half mile walk, making the distance in 3 minutes and 31 seconds, but it will not stand as an official record.

JACKSONVILLE WON TRACK MEET

Local High School Defeated Beardstown High School by Score of 65 to 60.

The High schools of Jacksonville and Beards-town participated in a track meet Saturday afternoon on Illinois college field, the locals winning by five points, the score being 65 to 60. It was a splendid meet in every way and was close enough throughout to be exciting. Both sides worked hard to win and the score shows how evenly divided was the strength of the squads.

The 440-yard dash was a pretty race, Strawn beating his opponent by about 10 yards. The closest race was the 100 yard dash. Here again Strawn showed his superiority by crossing the line about six inches ahead of Jones and Reeve for third place cleared the tape only a few inches ahead of his man.

Carter of Jacksonville had everything his own way in the mile run and annexed the event in easy order. Considerable fouling was made in the hammer throw, showing the lack of adequate practice.

Yetter was the high individual point winner for Beards-town, and he is an A No. 1 all around athlete. Seeger was also a good man on the visitor's team and Dickens showed up well in the weights.

Cannon was the highest individual point winner for Jacksonville, receiving four firsts, one second and two thirds. Strawn was second, winning four firsts.

The meet was run off in splendid style by the officials and was finished in time to let the Beards-town men catch their train for home. The events scheduled were the same as those of the Western Illinois High School league, which meet will be here May 3.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Several days ago the local union No. 525 of Painters and Paper Hangers, with 51 members, made a statement to the effect that the members of the Master Painters Association would not give them a hearing, relative to the settlement of the recent strike. Since then the Master Painters Association has appointed a committee, which met a committee from the Union, and the Union men were made the following offer—the Master Painters proposed that, if the Union men would go back to last year's scale, until July 1, that on July 1, they would sign the Union scale of 1912, for 2 years, providing that the local union No. 525 would work for the Master Painters Association only, and Master Painters agreed to hire only union labor. This offer the union turned down Thursday, the 18th.

The object of setting the date July 1, was for the purpose of giving both sides an opportunity to finish all contracts taken previous to the strike.

The Master Painters Association leaves it to the public if they are not fair in the matter.

ADD SOCIAL EVENTS.

Following the regular meeting of the U. C. T. Saturday night, a box social was enjoyed by the members, their wives and lady friends. L. B. Crowe, who acted as auctioneer, stated in the beginning that the terms would be cash, that it would take "two bits" to make an auction and the price paid would be fifty cents. Mr. and Mrs. Crowe sang a pleasant duet, Mrs. J. N. Conover acting as accompanist, and Hyatt Johnson's orchestra furnished music throughout the evening. Following the supper, dancing and cards were enjoyed. There were several visitors present from other councils and at the regular meeting two candidates were received into the order. The meeting last night was the first one in the new administration and for the success of the social much credit is due the committee, which was composed of L. B. Crowe, R. S. Fanning and J. N. Conover.

A Great Sale of Umbrellas at 98 cents

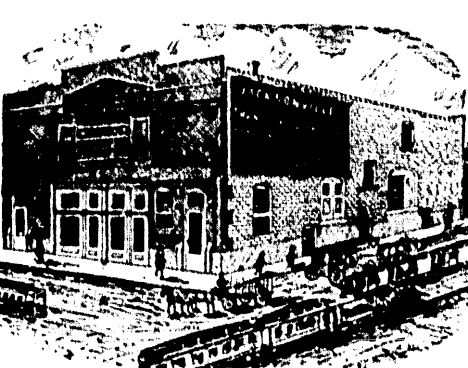

Styles for Both Men and Women

The umbrellas for men are self-closing, in a 28 inch, with Cantalever frame. The self-closing feature is very practical as well as convenient. Can be closed with the hand which holds the umbrella, is operated by the thumb pushing a collar at the base of the handle, releasing a spring, which closes the umbrella. Cantalever frame, strongest made, and so constructed that it cannot turn inside out. Material is a good grade of tape edge American taffeta; is mounted with opera shaped mission handles in assorted shapes. To acquaint you men with this new umbrella we are offering them at the introductory price of 98c.

It's risky business to leave the house during this month without an umbrella. April showers come up quickly. Prepare yourself with one of these 98c umbrellas and you will be protected at small expense. There is nothing cheap about them but the price.

The umbrella for women is a 26 inch, the top being made of genuine Crossweave, a silky tape edge material of exceptionally durable quality. A material which now has many imitations. They are ornamented with military tassels, made with silver and gilt rings, buttons and caps to match trimming in the handles. The handles come in a great variety of attractive styles in black and brown lizard and carved ebony, fancy shaped mission, some plain, some inlaid, others applied with unique silver, gold plate and copperoid ornaments. The quality of the material and the style of the handles should suit the most exacting—to say nothing of the low price, 98c, which heretofore barely covered the cost of the umbrella without the handle.

HENRY CLAY BOOSTED FOR JACKSONVILLE

Statesman Wrote Letter in 1834 Advising Eastern Lady to Come to This City—Original Copy of Letter Is at Library.

Dr. Miner of Winchester has left at the public library an old letter, written by Henry Clay, in 1834, to an eastern lady, who was contemplative of coming to Jacksonville to teach French and Spanish in an academy for female education. The letter was purchased by E. G. Miner of New York and as it referred to Jacksonville, Mr. Miner knew that his father would be interested in it and sent it to him at Winchester. Dr. Miner has kindly loaned it to the public library for short time and it is now exhibited there. The letter which is valued highly by its owner, who paid a substantial price for it, will be studied with much interest by local people. The brother of Henry Clay referred to in the letter is Porter Clay, who lived in Jacksonville for a number of years and who built a part of the house, now owned by Mrs. Sanders. The letter follows: City of Washington, March 5, 1834. Madam:

I received your favor of the 27th ult and Mrs. Clay has also received the bottle of medicinal water, which Mr. Barney was good enough to purchase for her. We are greatly obliged by his attention to that affair. I really think and believe that if you would give your attention to an academy for female education at Jacksonville, in Illinois, it would be successful. My brother has not yet established himself there, although he has made the necessary arrangements for his removal. He goes about this time. On the particular point respecting which you wish to consult him, that of the expediency of making provision for instruction in French and Spanish languages, I think I can safely advise you, to make no definite arrangements until you go there yourself. When you have a view of the whole ground you will yourself be best able to decide upon the wants of the place, and if they should be such as to render the engagement of a tutor in both those languages expedient, you will have no difficulty in reasonably procuring one. I doubt, however, whether you will find it necessary to provide for instruction in the Spanish language.

Mrs. Clay unites with me in respectful compliments to you, and I request to add mine for Mr. Barney. With great respects, I am Your obedient servant, Henry Clay.

NEW LAND FOR HOME SEEKERS Powell, Wyo., April 20.—A new land of promise for the land-hungry and the homeseekers is to be opened Monday, when the government will offer to settlers the lands embraced in the fourth unit of the Shoshone irrigation project, lying to the north and west of this town. The farms are mostly eighty acres each and contain some of the finest land on the Shoshone project, which eventually will reclaim 150,000 acres east of the Yellowstone National park in northern Wyoming.

Three years ago this spring the first unit of the Shoshone irrigation project, consisting of 15,000 acres, was opened. This was followed at intervals of a year by the opening of the second and third units. Settlers have poured into the valley from all sections of the country. About five hundred families are now established on the first three units and have built roads, schools and churches. The project has railroad facilities, rural delivery, telephones, and there are thriving towns at short intervals. The towns of Garland and Halston have grown rapidly and Cody is assuming metropolitan airs. Three years ago the government established the town of Powell in the center of the irrigable area. The town is the headquarters of the United States Reclamation Service on the Shoshone project, and though only three years old, it boasts of good schools, churches, hotels and stores.

DISTINGUISHED PASSENGERS. Paris, April 20.—The steamship La France, recently completed at St. Nazaire for the French Transatlantic line, sails from Havre to day on her maiden voyage to New York. The bust is to be placed at the base of the monument to be dedicated next June to Samuel de Champlain, the French navigator and explorer.

NO MORE CONSTIPATION --WHEE!

It's Me For Olive Tablets!

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Colonel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel bowel and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, gripping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not even touched.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all. If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them. "Every little Olive Tablet has a 6c and 25c box."

MARGARET ILLINGTON AT THE GRAND APRIL 23TH.

That Miss Illington is well qualified for the future greatness which Madam Modjeska prophesied for her is evidenced by her success in many important roles as well as for the work in "Macbeth." Prior to her appearance in "A Japanese Nightingale" at Daly's theater in 1904, she played a round of leading roles which ran the entire gamut from lightest comedy to the depths of tragedy. Following the Japanese play she appeared at the head of the cast of "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots," a comedy by Augustus Thomas, in Pinero's comedy, "A Wife Without a Smile," "Yvette," and other strong plays. Miss was also a prominent figure in the A. M. Palmer all-star cast of "The Two Orphans." She is appearing at present in a new play called "Kindling," by Charles Kenyon. Tickets now on sale.

MINING UP TO GET STATE I. O. R. M. COUNCIL

Mayor Davis Is Sending Letters to Prominent Red Men Urging Their Assistance in Arranging to Have State Gathering Here in 1913.

In a further effort to secure the 1913 state council of the Independent Order of Red Men for Jacksonville Mayor Davis is sending out letters like the one given below to the three hundred representatives and the fifty past sachems in the state. A great deal of support has already been promised and it seems almost certain that the council will be held here. It will mean a thousand visitors for Jacksonville. The letter: Jacksonville, Ill., Apr. 19, 1912. M. Henry Wertz, Chicago, Ill.

Dear Chief and Brother:—At the Great Council meeting in Decatur I notified the representatives that I expected to ask the Great Council session in 1913 to meet in Jacksonville. We had the meeting here in 1906 and if you were here you know that it was the best meeting ever held up to that time. It also set an example which other cities have followed since. The result has been that the Great Council session of the Improved Red Men of Illinois has been something that has been desired by every hunting ground in this reservation. Jacksonville is better prepared to entertain the Great Council in 1913 than ever before. We want it held here. So far as I have been able to learn a majority of the representatives want it held here.

I would greatly appreciate your support at the Springfield session. If you will kindly drop me a letter indicating Jacksonville as your preference in 1913 I will consider it a great favor and will endeavor to reciprocate at some future time. Believe me to be yours in P. F. & C. George W. Davis, Representative.

GOOD HEALTH

How To Keep It How To Get It Back

In this column we will discuss Health and Disease and questions of general interest will be answered by responsible members of the regular medical profession. Those not proper for publication will be answered by mail if accompanied by addressed and stamped envelope, provided they do not relate to a disease from which the patient is then suffering. For such diagnosis and advice as to treatment consult your family physician.

VACCINES, ANTITOXINS, AND SERUMS.

No. 6. Ask for an explanation of the principles of vaccination and the treatment of certain diseases by antitoxins and serums.

Vaccination—In the latter part of the eighteenth century Edward Jenner of Berkeley, England, vaccinated a boy from the cow pox on the head of a dairy maid and subsequently inoculated him with smallpox material. He didn't take the disease. Such an order was the first instance of such a vaccination for the prevention of this racing disease.

The relation between the causes of the two diseases has never been worked out, but suffice it to say that protective inoculation by scientifically prepared lymph does prevent smallpox infection or it weakens it to that only varioloid is produced.

Formerly arm to arm vaccination was practiced but now vaccine and human vaccine lymph is quite generally employed. This is safer since the processes of manufacture are under government control and likelihood of transmission of syphilis and other infection from patient to patient is not so great. A successful vaccination produces a mild form of the disease and helps the body to form a sort of antitoxin which resists the poison of the disease when the patient is exposed.

Antitoxins—The use of antitoxin in diphtheria illustrates best the specific treatment of a specific infectious disease by its antitoxin. The serum used is taken from horses that have been rendered immune to large doses of the diphtheria poison. Then serum accomplishes two things: first, it neutralizes the poison produced by the bacilli in the throat membrane and absorbed into the circulation; second, it has a definite effect on the germs themselves and it causes the membrane to peel away. Protective doses up to 1,000 units, furnished antitoxins which circulate in the blood and prevent those exposed from taking the disease, not permanently, however, for such immunity seldom lasts over three or four weeks.

The poisons of certain bacteria have been shown to be retained in the cell body of the germ so to get at such an infection dead cultures of the germ causing the infection are injected into the patient suffering from the disease. Examples of such infections are the ordinary pus infections, typhoid fever, colon bacillus infection and gonorrhea.

This process is termed a bacterium injection and furnishes the patient poisons of germs to fight the living germs of the infection from which he is suffering. The principle is that germs are killed by their own poisons or toxins.

Alcohol and Insanity.

While it has often been said that prohibition does not prohibit the statistics of Kansas on insanity would seem to prove the contrary. In almost every part of the civilized world where alcohol is used the ratio of insanity is increasing. The statistics from Kansas show that while in 1904 she had 56.2 commitments to each hundred thousand inhabitants, in 1910 this ratio had decreased to 42.3 and in 1911 to 28.3 per hundred thousand. The State Board of Control and the asylum officials of Kansas credit this diminution in insanity to diminished consumption of alcohol.

The Length of Human Life. Charles Babbage wrote: "There are few things less subject to fluctuation than the average duration of life of multitude of individuals." If this was true it would certainly be discouraging to all sanitary, hygienic and lifesaving efforts. The following table shows that the average length of human life varies widely under different conditions:

	Males	Females
Sweden	50.9	53.6
Denmark	50.2	53.2
France	45.7	49.1
England and Wales	44.1	47.4
Massachusetts	41.1	45.6
Italy	42.8	45.1
Prussia	41.0	44.5
India	23.0	24.0

FLOWER SHOW PLANS

Committee From Woman's Club Makes Announcement of Interest to Children.

The Flower Garden committee of the Woman's Club takes this opportunity to announce to the children and their parents its plans for the summer.

The next few weeks ought to find the children busy arranging their planting so that the September flower show will be the largest and best we have yet held. This show gives to the little youngsters of the first grade as good a chance to win a prize as to the older children of the seventh grade. The prizes are large enough to be a sufficient inducement aside from the pleasure children derive from the cultivation of flowering plants.

The following list gives the prizes and the flowers for which they are offered:

White asters, pink asters, lavender asters, mixed asters—first prize $1, second prize 75 cents, third prize 50 cents.

Cosmos, Verbenas, Marigolds, Zinnias, Nasturtiums, Mixed Bouquets, Cosmos—first prize 75 cents, second prize 50 cents, third prize 25 cents.

Largest sunflower, tallest Castor Bean, prettiest gourd—first prize 50 cents, second prize 25 cents.

The committee has decided on a change of plan for the garden work. Instead of limiting the contestants for the best gardens to pupils of the fifth and sixth grades we are going to ask every child in every grade up to the eighth to try for the prizes. And instead of giving first and second prizes for the best gardens in each ward we are going to give them only for the two gardens in the whole city, which show the best planning and care.

In addition to the prizes for flower gardens we offer two for the vegetable gardens. $1 first prize, 75 cents for second. Here is an opportunity for the boy or girl who prefers vegetables to flowers and we hope the parents will co-operate with us by furnishing good seeds and giving words of encouragement.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN.

The Subject is Becoming More and More Prominent From Day to Day.

Yesterday morning a number of young volunteers appeared at the new playground in the first ward and did fine work clearing away the rubbish and burning the litter. The work on the equipment is going right along and the ground will be open for business before very long. The enlarged area will make the place quite ample and every effort will be put forth to keep the merry-makers within bounds and from annoying contiguous property owners.

In Bloomington the conservation committee of the Woman's club has secured the services of an eminent speaker, Prof. Henry S. Curtis of world wide fame to make two addresses on "The Relation of Play to the Formation of Habits and Character."

Prof. Henry S. Curtis has been spending this week in Little Rock, Ark., where the play ground work is being well developed. So enthusiastic are the business men of Little Rock over play grounds that one enthusiastic merchant, Gus Blass, of the largest dry goods firms there, will establish a permanent playground in a new business house to be erected in that city. "We propose," said Mr. Blass, "to arrange a section of the seventh floor, 70x100 feet, into a veritable playground and toy house for children." This room will be in charge of a play director and will be open every hour of the day that business departments are open. Mr. Blass cordially indorses the policy for playgrounds as being advocated in Little Rock, and his decision to install the play department in the big new store is in line with the play doctrine.

No Matter What the Color of Your Hair

Newbro's Herpicide

Will Not Change it in the Least

While they appreciate full well the value of a sanitary hair-dressing, many ladies are afraid to use one for fear it may alter the color of the hair. No such apprehension is associated with the use of Newbro's Herpicide.

It makes no difference whether your hair is blonde, brunette or otherwise. Herpicide will not streak, fade or alter it by a single shade. The clear, pure nature of the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer appeals to everyone. It contains no grease and does not stain or soil the clothing. Herpicide is clean.

Used regularly Newbro's Herpicide will eradicate that most common as well as most annoying and distressing of all hair troubles, dandruff. Dandruff is caused by a germ, or microbe which gradually forces its way down into the hair bulb or follicle. This gives rise to inflammation, manifested by an itchy scalp and the hair slips out. Herpicide kills the germ, cleans the scalp and prevents the hair from coming out. The itching stops almost instantly.

Send 10c for Sample and Booklet.

A sample size bottle of Herpicide, also a booklet containing much valuable information on the care of the hair will be mailed to any address upon receipt of Ten Cents to cover cost of packing and mailing.

Strength and Endurance

Inter-state Motor Cars are well termed "bull dogs" for strength and endurance. They represent the best ideas in auto building which years of experience have developed. Users of Inter-state cars can testify that speed and service are both in these cars, which after years of usage have become famous as "no trouble" cars.

When you start out with an Inter-state you know you are "coming back" and its a nice safe feeling to have. We will be glad to demonstrate the good points of "The Inter-state."

TALK ABOUT THE CROP OUTLOOK

Morgan County Farmers Say Nearly All Wheat is Killed—Corn Acreage Will Be Great—Winter Hard on Alfalfa.

There were a good many farmers in Jacksonville Saturday, although the roads are still far from good and as a matter of fact there were a lot of farmers who came because the fields were too wet for work. The truth is that farm work is pretty well behind already and unless there is a continued let up from rains it is going to be a hard task to make up for lost time.

The complaint is general that the wheat has been killed out probably not so much because of the long hard winter as from the fact of the thawing and freezing time that came last month. The ice which formed over wheat this winter was more disastrous than the severe weather and a lot of wheat which had shown signs of life up to that time was killed out completely. The result will be that the acreage for corn and oats will be increased very largely. The killing of the wheat and what was to be done with it furnished the theme for various groups of farmers Saturday and all were agreed that very few fields would be worth leaving and that probably the corn acreage of Morgan county will be larger this year than has been true in a long time.

A Journal reporter overheard a number of conversations on the square Saturday on agricultural themes and here are some things which were said.

Charles E. Patterson: I am glad I had no wheat this year, for I have seen mighty little which is worth saving. One day recently I went down to Murraville and the only good field of wheat I saw between this city and that town was on the David Winters farm. Adjoining my own place, Erell Shibe has thirty acres killed out and A. E. Williamson has about an equal acreage which must be plowed up.

E. G. Deweese: I had thirty acres and while for a time this spring I thought the roots were alive, now I am convinced that there is nothing left and that the field must go to corn or oats. E. G. Caldwell has some good looking wheat on the old Springer farm owned by Erixon & Waters.

Edward Patterson: Out on my farm near Ebenezer church I had sixty acres of wheat and I believe that it is all gone. Samuel Bridgeman had seventy-five acres and he estimates that about fifteen is all that is worth leaving. The only really good wheat I have seen is on the farm of Joseph Blackburn, which William Reunmeister has under cultivation.

Charles Black: I have about seventy-five acres in wheat this year and while it does not look like it would amount to much now, I haven't given up hope yet and am going to give the plants every chance to show what

As "Ed" Howe Sees Life

A day's work has been steadily decreasing for hundreds of years. You may think that, in the confusion, a bride won't notice it if you do not send her a present; but she will.

After the average boy learns to read and write, you might as well take him out of school; he never seems to learn much after that. It is the girls who are ambitious to teach, and are known as "good students."

Don't hate people; if you can't love them, laugh at them. It is a sign of weakness to hate so violently that you are disturbed by it.

A politician in office takes gentlemanly interest in a campaign; but it is the politician who is out, and wants in, who kicks up the big dust.

After every big business failure, it develops that some very shaky men got credit at banks.

When a woman says she is "all in rags," she means that her apron is about worn out, and that she must make a new supply.

A man I know has told me every week for thirty years that times are hard, and business dull. Yet he has made a fortune.

If a hard working man takes a day off, it takes him at least three days to get the harness fitted again.

They can do. I will put the field in corn if there is no wheat but I will go ahead with other corn ground and leave that until the last.

Stansfield Baldwin: I am in good luck not to have any wheat this year; good luck I call it because I haven't seen a single promising field this spring.

W. H. Rowe: I don't know anything about wheat, as I am not a wheat man, but if you were asking about corn possibly I could do better. It looks certain, however, that the acreage of corn in Morgan county this year will break the record.

A. L. French: I have just about quit trying to raise wheat on my farm, that is, I haven't been raising any for a number of years. I have found that year in and year out oats pay better than wheat and I have never failed to get a good out crop and oats rest the land more than is true with wheat. The latter crop is so uncertain that if you count the years and then divide by the number I don't believe that you will find that Morgan county wheat pays well.

Isaac Watson: In our neighborhood wheat looks bad and I believe that nearly every acre of it will be plowed up for some other crop. Martin Joyce has twenty acres that looks all right and George Barnhart has forty acres that is in good shape. The continued wet weather is putting farm work a way back and it is going to be hard to catch up with the work.

George Fredlander: About ten years ago I had a crop of wheat and the highest price I could get was fifty cents a bushel and so finally I fed it to the hogs. That was the last wheat crop I raised, as I have found that other crops pay better. Last fall I planted a few acres of alfalfa and got a fine stand but the winter weather was too much for it and the field will have to be plowed up. However, I intend to plant more this fall as I am determined to get a stand of alfalfa, which is certainly the most profitable crop a farmer can plant.

James Elliott: The wheat I have on the flat black prairie land was all killed out but in a field a little rolling there is a fairly good stand. Alfalfa planted last fall got a good start and two weeks ago I thought only a third of it had been killed as the little field looked green but recently I found that the alfalfa is killed and that a strange weed is coming up in its place.

Richard Butler: In my locality the condition of wheat is as bad as elsewhere in the county and I know of only two fields that look worth anything at all. George Barnhart has a promising field and so has Irvin Shepherd.

NO GAME AT ALTON.

Wreck Prevents Illinois College Nine From Fulfilling Date.

The baseball game between Illinois college and Shurtleff college had to be cancelled Saturday on account of a freight wreck on the Alton between Delhi and Godfrey. Coach Harmon and the team left at 10:21 and returned to the city at 5:25. The wreck was the cause of over 200 feet of track being torn up. The manager of the Alton team telephoned to Jacksonville shortly afterwards, wanting to know what was the trouble. Coach Harmon attempted to get a conveyance over to Godfrey, a distance of seven miles, but was not successful. It is probable that the game will be played sometime next week. Shurtleff has a game with Illinois here on May 4.

IN MEMORY OF ISABELLE BLUE

Thou wast like a lily,
So pure and sweet and fair.
Yet in thee we found more virtues
Than in the lily, Dear.

For you breathed and walked and talked,
And loved, and was loved by all.
Thy many deeds of kindness
We ever will recall.

God sent thee here not to linger,
But to let your blessed light
Shine forth just as an angel,
To teach us to do right.

We watched thee as you faded
But naught could we do but pray
That God would not be so selfish
As to take thee so far away.

But He knew best and took thee
Away in His arms to dwell,
In a land that is more beautiful
Than even words can tell.

We miss thee, oh, we miss thee
Yet still we each can pray
That God will let us see thee
Again on that "Great Day."

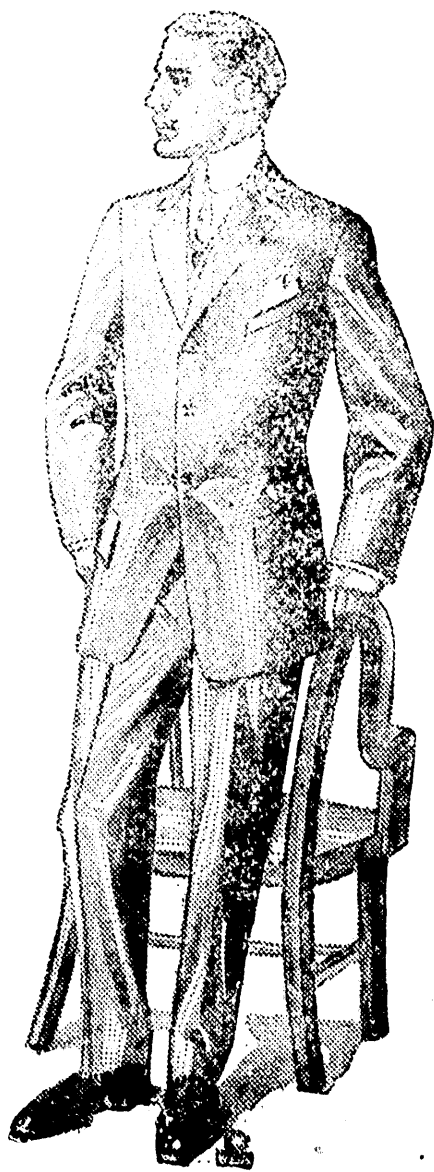

Then we shall be as pure
And fair as thou hast been
For we'll be washed in His blood,
And then be free from sin.

Live on Isabella, our darling,
In joy, till we join thee, Dear,
No more to be parted,
In that, "Blessed Land Up There."

LIVELY TIME AT BALL GAME

FIRST FIGHT AND NEAR RIOT AT NEW YORK.

Dahlen Jostled Umpire, Who Retorted by Striking Brooklyn Manager in Face—Umpire Roughly Handled
but Finally Made Escape to Clubhouse.

New York, April 20.—New York defeated Brooklyn today 4 to 3 in an exciting game that ended with a first fight and near riot. Brooklyn had the lead in their half of the ninth. In New York's half Wilson drove the ball in the grandstand, scoring Groh ahead of him and winning the game. Catcher Erwin claimed the hit was foul. Manager Dahlen of Brooklyn ran up to Umpire Rigler, jostling him, and Rigler retorted by striking Dahlen in the face. The two men were engaged in a hot fist battle in spite of efforts of Catcher Erwin and Coach Wilbur
Robinson of the New Yorks to separate them, when the crowd surged on the field. Rigler was swept away and roughly handled but finally got to the clubhouse.

Manager McGraw of New York was suspended five days for his argument with Umpire Finneran yesterday.

President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn club later sent a formal message to President Lynch of the National League, asking that Umpire Rigler be "punished for his unwarranted assault upon Dahlen." The score:

TO HOLD CONFERENCE.

Commercial Themes Will Be Considered This Week at Washington Meeting.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—During the coming week a commercial conference of national importance which, it is hoped, will be far-reaching in its results, will be held in this city and hundreds of delegates, representing various commercial and industrial organizations in all parts of the country have already arrived here. This conference, which is intended as the first step toward the formation of a national organization broadly representative of the commercial interests of the whole country, was called upon the suggestion and orders of President Taft, by the secretary of commerce and labor, Mr. Nagle, and will hold its meetings at the New Willard hotel.

In a message on foreign relations supremacy, it should afford cooperation of last year, President Taft expressed the belief that it would be of great value to have "some central organization in touch with the associations and chambers of commerce throughout the country, and able to keep purely American interests closely in touch with commercial affairs." This expression met with such general approval that the president decided to start a movement in the direction indicated.

He instructed the secretary of commerce and labor to take the necessary steps to initiate as soon as practicable at Washington a conference of delegates from organizations which are engaged in the promotion and development of commerce and industry in their respective districts, such conference to consider the establishment of a representative national organization for commercial development, and to outline the principles by which it should be governed. In conformity with the instructions received Secretary Nagle, through the bureau of manufactures, sent out invitations to more than one thousand chambers of commerce, boards of trade and other commercial bodies throughout the country and even in the insular possessions of the United States. It is expected that a large majority of the organizations invited will be represented by delegates at the conference next week.

The general development of the plan, the determination of the basis of organization, the demarkation of its scope and all the details of its formation will be left entirely with the accredited representatives at the conference. The suggestions of the president and the tentative plan which will be offered for consideration and discussion by Secretary Nagle are intended merely to guide the conference in its deliberations. According to the president's suggestion the national organization planned should be so constituted that it would give the government opportunity to consult the business world of the nation on all problems of trade supremacy; it should afford cooperation in the expansion of commerce at home and abroad and should provide a means by which government officers charged with the enforcement of laws could become acquainted with the complexities which surround their administration in the business world; it should give advice to congress in framing new statutes affecting trade and commerce and should aid the government in the intelligent and impartial development of domestic and foreign trade.

In some respects the plan suggested by the president is similar to that upon which the German system of government, cooperation with boards of trade throughout the German states is based, but, of course, certain modifications will be necessary. The tentative plan of organization which Secretary Nagle has prepared for the consideration of the conference proposes that each commercial organization with 100 members shall be entitled to one representative, with one representative for each additional 200 members, provided no constituent body shall have more than ten representatives. National trade or industrial organizations would have one representative for each 500 members up to 2,500.

CARDINAL FARLEY 70 YEARS OLD.

New York, April 20.—Cardinal Farley celebrated the seventieth anniversary of his birth today in an unostentatious manner. There was no official observance of the day, but messages of congratulation in the form of letters and telegrams poured into his residence from all parts of the world.

Cardinal Farley was born in Ireland, April 20, 1842, came to America as a boy and studied for the priesthood here and in Rome, where he was ordained. He became bishop in 1895 and archbishop of New York in 1902. He was elevated to the cardinalate in 1911.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

Do You Smoke Too Much, Drink Too Much, Eat Too Much?

It takes a mighty good stomach to feel ready for a good breakfast the morning after the banquet or social session.

"What do you want for breakfast?" Inquired Brown's good wife. "Just a pleasant smile and a breath of fresh air," answered Brown the morning after an important meeting at the lodge.

If you eat, smoke or drink too much always remember that two little MI-O-XA stomach tablets taken just before you go to bed will destroy all poisonous gases and leave you with a sweet, clean stomach in the morning.

For indigestion and all stomach disorders MI-O-XA is the best preparation in the world. Coover & Shreve sell it on money back plan. Large box only 50 cents.

Every feature has been faithfully reproduced, from the wonderful bronze statues to the famous chimera, for the sound of which Pope Pius X. has often expressed a yearning since he quit Venice for the Vatican. The formal dedication of the new Campanile is set for next Thursday. The municipality has issued an invitation to Italy and the world to attend the ceremonies, which will be conducted on an elaborate scale.

ASK PARDON FOR LIFE.

Madison, Wis., April 20.—A hearing was held before Governor McGovern today on an application for the pardon of Harry Dunn, who is serving a life term in the prison at Waupun. Dunn was convicted of the murder of Emil Leber, a Milwaukee saloonkeeper, Aug. 3, 1898. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence and has always maintained his innocence. The pardon is asked chiefly on the ground that the prisoner is suffering from tuberculosis and cannot live long if kept in confinement.

SMALLPOX NEAR NEELYVILLE.

Residents of Chapin will not feel very complacent over a report that smallpox has broken out in the vicinity of that place, for the fact is there is none of the disease in Chapin nor anywhere at all near it. Down near Neelyville there are some people afflicted though not severely. The families of Messrs. Richard and Henry Vannier and Henry Conrad, all residing in the vicinity of Neelyville, have been attacked with what seems to be smallpox. Dr. Fountain was called and to make the matter certain and not be guilty of any neglect he sent and had a member of the state board come down and investigate and the three houses have been quarantined for a time, but it is not likely that anything serious will develop though of course it will not do to say positively on that point. Dr. T. O. Hardesty, county physician, was in the vicinity Saturday relative to the quarantine.

Ribs—
Chicago, April 20.—Wheat—

Wheat closed strong and sharply higher, at the top of the day. Heavy profit taking sales were well absorbed. An active demand from shorts and scattered new investors taking everything. Trade too large for individual operations to be identified. Reports from Kansas, indicate condition lower than reported April 1. The supposed good condition of western wheat should be the mainstay of the bear operators. Should it develop that the west and the southwest was seriously injured it will be the worst catastrophe experienced by the wheat crop in many years. Some extremists are now estimating the abandoned area as high as 7,000,000 acres. Messages from all portions of the west wheat belt tend to confirm the extreme view. Sections directly tributary to Chicago have been so injured that early arrivals of new wheat are out of question. July promises surely to be old crop delivery. At ruling prices for cash wheat and taking in to account the strength of May much higher prices for July and September are highly probable. Conditions affecting the new crop are the dominating influences.

Spring wheat news is still hopeful, but the fact that fall plowing was not extensive and that much of spring wheat area will be carelessly seeded means that spring wheat will get a poor start. Examination of where wheat fields over Sunday will doubtless bring some favorable reports and probably lead to heavy realizing and soon short selling. The entire crop, of course, is not destroyed, but the evidence of a calamity too strong to be ignored. We are firmly convinced that purchases of July and September will be profitable.

Corn—Corn shared moderately in wheat strength, but was under heavy pressure of long stuff. Outside buying has been diverted to wheat and shorts supplied the only demand. Arrangements to import some Argentine corn for seaboard use indicate plainly that no help can be expected from Europe. Consumers are curtailing consumption and lack of demand may prove a bearish factor. Country offerings are practically nothing. Receipts insignificant. The vast amount of abandoned wheat area will probably be planted to corn, farmers will be too busy to market freely. We believe corn is worth present money and as a scalping proposition would be on the safe side. With favorable weather the future points to a record breaking corn acreage.

Oats—Oats showed strength, but closed lower under heavy realizing sales. Favorable weather and a few reports that oats seeding has been completed led to selling. Very little more is being heard about turning abandoned wheat land into oats. It is now too late to use much land for oats. Delayed farm operations and unsatisfactory weather have undoubtedly made the oat area short. Harvest will be delayed. July oats will certainly be old crop delivery and as such there is no reason why they should not sell higher than ruling prices for cash and May delivery. Old supplies will be practically exhausted before new

GAVE FORECAST OF TITANIC'S FATE

W. T. Stead Wrote Fanciful Story in 1892 Which in Detail Almost Tallies With Awful Disaster.

The fate of William T. Stead of London, who lost his life in the Titanic disaster is recalled by a story which he himself wrote in the Christmas extra issue of The Review of Reviews, London, published in December, 1892, entitled, "From the Old World to the New," a chapter of which tallies in almost every detail with the wreck of the Titanic.

Mr. Stead, for whom all hope has been abandoned in this chapter, which is called "Coincident and Clairvoyance," describes an encounter with icebergs. His characters are a group of English tourists on their way to Chicago World's Fair. They are crossing the Atlantic on board the Majestic of the White Star line. The steamship suddenly comes upon a gigantic iceberg.

The great English writer, long known for his ideas on spiritualism, clairvoyance and mental telepathy, brings all into play in his thrilling story of the high sea, but when he describes the icebergs, fog and conditions of sky and sea, and on board the Majestic, it would seem that had he been able to send an account of what took place last Sunday evening, it could not have been more identical.

"Jack Compton, a passenger, has the power of automatic writing. Compton receives a telepathic message from John Thomas, a Scotchman, who is an old friend, that he (Thomas) has been saved in the wreck of the Montrose, which was in collision with an iceberg. The messages continue to come. Meanwhile, Mr. Compton has asked the captain of the Majestic to stop at the iceberg on arrival. The old captain scoffs at the idea. But when his own vessel comes within a hair's breadth of being wrecked by an iceberg, he stops. Compton and the professor put out in a lifeboat and eventually reach Thomas, finding him almost dead. They bring him safely to the Majestic, just as it seemed that steamship would go under.

The setting of the story and the descriptions of the icebergs and the wreck tally with the tragedy of Sunday night. The time and place also agree with those of last Sunday's catastrophe. It also was on a vessel of the White Star line, and the captain had under his care just 2,000 souls, and a cargo worth at least $2,000,000. Perhaps the only difference was that Mr. Stead's mental telepathy has been replaced with wireless telegraphy.

"WOMEN ALL AT SEA"

There are thousands of women to day entirely at sea, so to speak, as far as their ailments are concerned. Many are suffering in silence rather than consult a physician, while many others have sought advice and taken medicines without help and are literally discouraged.

Such women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon to act promptly and thoroughly in such cases. It strengthens the nerves and muscles and restores the female system to a normal healthy condition.

ADDRESSED STUDENTS

Mr. Jay Cook Howard, a prominent banker of Duluth, Minn., spent Friday and Saturday as a guest at the School for the Deaf, and delivered an interesting talk to the pupils in the chapel last night. Mr. Howard is one of the most remarkable deaf men in America, being at the head of a banking concern doing a country-wide business. He is an alumnus of Gallaudet college, and while here renewed acquaintance with local alumnus. Of the latter there are some six or seven, four of whom hold degrees. Mr. Howard departed Saturday night for Duluth by way of Chicago.

CONDUCTED STORY HOUR.

Miss Georgia Lutkeneyer of the public library conducted a delightful story hour Friday at the Second ward school for the pupils of Misses Parsons and Sheehan in the first, second and third grades. Miss Lutkeneyer first told an Arctur Day story, Eugene Field's "The Oak Tree and the Ivy" and the other stories were from Ernest Thompson Seton's "Cuckoo Lark" and Williston's "Tongue Cut Sparrow," a Japanese fairy tale.

BAD BLOOD CAUSED ABSCESS.

How Vinol Saved Mrs. Hall.
It took a dangerous and painful experience to prove to Mrs. Hattie Hall that she had let her health run down. In a letter from Schenectady, N. Y., she says: "I was forcibly reminded that my system needed renovating and that my blood was out of order, by the fact that an abscess formed in my side, a short time ago and required treatment for several weeks."

"Under the regular use of Vinol to enrich and purify my blood and build up my strength, this was soon healed up and my general health very much improved."

Right now is the very best time of year to put your blood in good order by the use of our delicious cod liver and Port remedy without oil. Vinol. It enriches the blood by adding iron and thus frees it from its impurities.

Vinol is wonderfully strengthening and vitalizing for all who are run-down and weak, and we guarantee it to give perfect satisfaction. Lee P. Albott, east side square.

TRIBUTE TO MR. BODE.

Springfield Register Says Jacksonville Is to Gain Desirable Citizen.

That Frank H. Bode, who is to be manager of the Jenkinson-Rode wholesale house in this city, is held in the highest esteem by the residents of Springfield, where he now resides, is shown by an article published in a recent issue of the State Register in which they praise him highly both as an exemplary citizen and also as a clean politician.

A copy of the article taken from the Register was sent to the Journal by Commissioner Spaulding of Springfield, who stated that as Mr. Bode was soon to become a resident of this city he thought that the article would be a good means of introducing him to the Jacksonville people.

The Register states that Mr. Bode has been respected by both citizens and politicians, with the exception of "a few of the porch-climbing variety," for the political influence which his unswerving sincerity and his uncompromising opposition to mal-administration and corruption won for him. It also states that he was one of the first business men who opposed the old bi-partisan gang in Springfield which finally won for that city the commission plan of conducting elections and the commission form of government. The Register stated that as Jacksonville is under the commission form of government Mr. Bode and his new municipal home will have something common in a governmental as well as business way.

In conclusion the article states: "Springfield owes him much. This city is losing and Jacksonville is acquiring an exemplary citizen and an able business man."

"The State Register wishes Mr. Bode success in his new undertakings."

The S. S. Graded union will meet Wednesday afternoon, April 24, at 4 o'clock at Grace church. Program: "The Program in the Elementary Grades," Miss Anna Hopper; "The Picture Story and the Song Story," Miss Morey.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Murphy were arrivals from Murrayville in the city yesterday.

Grand Opening of Irrigated Government Land

Big Horn Basin (Powell, W50.) April 22, 1912

The United States government will open 6300 acres of choice irrigated farm land at Powell, Wyoming, on April 22nd, 1912, on the ten payment plan without interest. Graduated payments, requiring only a small part of the total, during the first five years, thereby giving the settler a chance to improve his farm before paying very much of the water charge.

A NEW FOLDER telling all about this homestead opening and containing a map of the Shoshone Project, showing lands filed on and lands to be opened on April 22nd, will be sent free upon request. Don't fail to send for one. There is plenty of moisture this year and now is the time to secure a farm. Write today!
